

Woman cooking maize in front of the Epicenter in Chokwe:

Woman making bread, which is going to be baked in the stove above:

Women in Chokwe showing their agricultural products:

They make porridge (nutritious meal for the kids that attend the preschool at the epicenter) of peanuts and squash leaves. They make jam of tomato, squash and sugar.

Woman plowing the communal land with the help of two cows:

Woman in another part of the communal land plot showing squash as one of many harvested products:

THP MZ supports 3 farmer associations with seeds. For 1 cup of seeds the farmer association gives back 2 cup of seeds back for storage in the food bank of the epicenter.

Tree planting school in front of the Epicenter in Manhica:

Women offering their products in Manhica: Sugar cane juice, jam, dried bananas, dried cabbage, dried onions and the THP cake (made of maize, flour, eggs, condensed milk):

Fish Farming (pilot project) in Zuza:

Communal land with irrigation system in Zuza:

